

LINES

There are so many kinds
Of lines you can use
So come with me now
And let's look at a few.

Lines can be straight
With no turns or bends
Straight as train tracks
From start to end.

Lines like to curve
To stretch over a pool
On a hidden foot bridge
In the shade where it's cool.

Wavy lines curve here and curve there.
Elephant trunks swinging back and forth in the air

Zig-zag lines cut through the sky
Like bats in the night or mountains so high.

Lines can be thin
Lines can be thick.
They can grow from a trunk
To a new slender stick.

Lines that are vertical Go up and down

On the masts of ships
Or the skyscrapers
downtown.

Horizontal lines
Go from side to side
In the distant horizon
At the sandy seaside.

Some lines are diagonal
Going uphill and down
Lines that can lean
Or fly high over a crowd.

So now you see
How artists use lines
To make great art
And have a great time.
